

@pythonesdatadiaries

Job Hunting 101: A Fresher's Guide to Top Job Portals in India (2025)

Top 5 Job Portals: Details and How to Apply (#top-5-job-portals)

- Naukri.com
- LinkedIn
- Foundit
- Shine
- TimesJobs

---

Top 5 Job Portals: Details and How to Apply

1. Naukri.com

- Website: www.naukri.com
- Daily Job Listings: Over 100,000 new jobs daily, covering IT, finance, marketing, and fresher roles.
- How to Apply (Step-by-Step):
  - Sign Up: Create a free account with your email or phone.
  - Build Profile: Add education, skills (e.g., Python, Excel), and upload a resume (use their resume maker if needed).
  - Search Jobs: Use filters (location, industry, "fresher") to find relevant roles.
  - Apply: Click "Apply" on job listings; track applications in the dashboard.
  - Set Alerts: Create up to 5 job alerts for fresher roles in cities like Bengaluru or Delhi.
- What Else to Do:
  - Update your profile weekly to stay visible to recruiters.
  - Use premium services (e.g., visual resume) for better visibility.
  - Check company reviews on the app to pick reputable employers.

- Benefits:
    - Massive job database—find fresher jobs in IT, BPO, and more.
    - Free to use, with optional premium tools like resume writing.
    - Mobile app for on-the-go applications and video profiles.
  - Fun Fact: Naukri's so big, it's like the job market's WhatsApp group—everyone's on it!
-

2. LinkedIn

- Website: www.linkedin.com
  - Daily Job Listings: 1000+ new jobs daily (exact numbers vary), with a focus on IT, startups, and professional roles.
  - Description: LinkedIn is your professional Instagram—build a profile, network, and apply with “Easy Apply.” With over 100 million users in India, it's ideal for connecting with recruiters directly.
  - How to Apply (Step-by-Step):
    - Create Profile: Sign up with email and add education, skills, and a professional photo.
    - Complete Profile: List projects (e.g., college coding projects) and get endorsements for skills.
    - Search Jobs: Use the “Jobs” tab, filter by “Entry Level” or “Internship.”
    - Apply: Use “Easy Apply” for quick submissions or apply via company websites.
    - Network: Follow companies and message recruiters politely.
  - What Else to Do:
    - Post about your skills (e.g., “Just built a Python app!”) to attract attention.
    - Join LinkedIn groups for freshers in IT or marketing.
    - Optimize your profile with keywords like “fresher” or “Python developer.”
  - Benefits:
    - Networking with recruiters and alumni boosts visibility.
    - “Easy Apply” simplifies applications (2.5 applicants per job globally).
    - Free to use, with premium options for InMail to recruiters.
  - Fun Fact: LinkedIn's like a job party where you can DM the boss!
-

3. Foundit

- Website: www.foundit.in
- Daily Job Listings: 1000+ of jobs daily, especially for IT, remote work, and freshers (exact numbers not specified).
- Description: Formerly Monster India, Foundit is the cool millennial of job portals, offering AI-driven job matches, skill assessments, and resume services like Xtreme Resume.
- How to Apply (Step-by-Step):
  - Register: Sign up with email or Google account.
  - Build Profile: Add skills, education, and a resume (use their resume tools).
  - Search Jobs: Filter by “fresher,” location, or remote work.
  - Apply: Click to apply directly; track applications via the mobile app.
  - Join Events: Attend virtual career fairs to meet employers.
- What Else to Do:
  - Take skill assessments to stand out to recruiters.
  - Read Foundit’s blog for interview tips and career advice.
  - Set up personalized job alerts for fresher roles.
- Benefits:
  - Tailored for freshers with entry-level and remote job listings.
  - AI-based recommendations match your skills to jobs.
  - Virtual career fairs connect you with employers online.
- Fun Fact: Foundit’s like your career coach who also makes killer resumes!

---

4. Indeed

- Website: www.indeed.co.in
- Daily Job Listings: 1000+ new jobs daily, sources suggest over 60% of Indian job seekers use Indeed.
- Millions of active listings across sectors like IT, healthcare, and retail).
- Description: Indeed is a one-stop shop for freshers, offering tools like job alerts, company reviews, and a mobile app for applying on the go. In 2025, it’s a top choice for its simplicity and vast reach.

- How to Apply (Step-by-Step):
  - Sign Up: Create a free account with your email or Google/Facebook login.
  - Build Profile: Add skills, education, and a resume (use their resume tools).
  - Search Jobs: Filter by “fresher,” location, or remote work.
  - Apply: Click “Apply Now” for direct applications or “Apply on company site” for external links; track applications in your dashboard.
  - Set Alerts: Create job alerts for “fresher IT jobs” or specific roles to get daily email updates
-
- What Else to Do:
  - Check company reviews on Indeed to avoid shady employers .
  - Use the salary calculator to know what freshers earn in your field.
  - Update your resume regularly and tailor it to job descriptions .
  - Explore Indeed’s career advice blogs for interview tips and resume hacks.
-
- Benefits:
  - Aggregates jobs from multiple sources, giving you a huge pool of fresher roles in IT, BPO, and more.
  - Free to use, with a mobile app that’s 30% faster for applying (per industry insights).
  - Company reviews and salary data help you make informed choices.
  - Job alerts keep you updated without constant searching.
  - Fun Fact: Indeed’s so easy, you could apply for a job while munching on samosas during a chai break!
-

5. TimesJobs

- Website: www.timesjobs.com
  - Daily Job Listings: Thousands of jobs daily, including IT, government, and fresher roles (exact numbers not specified).
-
- Description: Run by the Times Group, TimesJobs is like a career matchmaker, recommending jobs based on your profile and offering TechGIG.com for IT roles.
-
- How to Apply (Step-by-Step):
  - Create Account: Sign up with email and verify.

- Build Profile: Add education, skills, and resume.
  - Search Jobs: Filter by “fresher” or use TechGIG for IT jobs.
  - Apply: Click to apply; track applications in the dashboard.
  - Check Recommendations: Review personalized job suggestions.
-
- What Else to Do:
    - Explore the government jobs section for public sector roles.
    - Read JobBuzz blogs for salary and company insights.
    - Update your profile regularly for better recommendations.
-
- Benefits:
    - Personalized job recommendations based on your profile.
    - Dedicated IT job platform (TechGIG.com) for tech freshers.
    - Free to use, with tools for government job seekers.
  - Fun Fact: TimesJobs is like a job genie granting personalized wishes!

---

Bonus Point :

Shine.com

- Website: www.shine.com
  - Daily Job Listings: Over 300,000 active jobs, with thousands added daily across IT, banking, and startups.
  - Description: Backed by HT Media, Shine is like a friendly career guide, offering live chat support, resume writing, and a data-driven approach for freshers and seniors.
-
- How to Apply (Step-by-Step):
    - Sign Up: Create an account with email or social media.
    - Upload Resume: Add education and skills; use Shine’s resume builder.
    - Search Jobs: Filter by “fresher,” industry, or location.
    - Apply: Apply directly or via the Shine app; track progress.
    - Get Alerts: Set up job notifications for new postings.
-
- What Else to Do:
    - Use live chat for application support.
    - Explore Shine’s blog for fresher-specific interview tips.
    - Boost your profile with premium services like profile highlighting.
-
- Benefits:
    - User-friendly app with live chat and email support.
    - Over 2.5 crore job seekers trust it for fresher roles.

- Data-driven job matches for relevant opportunities.
- Fun Fact: Shine's so smooth, you could apply for jobs while sipping coffee!